DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 50-56 and 94 drawn to a signal amplification system.
- II. Claims 57-59, drawn to DNA library.
- III. Claims 60-73 and 92, drawn to a method of selecting a molecule of interest and the molecule of interest.
- IV. Claims 74-75, drawn to a kit for selecting a molecule of interest.
- V. Claims 76-90 and 93, drawn to a method of screening for a substance e.g., inhibitor.
- VI. Claims 91, drawn to a kit for substance inhibitor, for example.
- VII. Claim 95, drawn to a bacterial strain.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II, IV, VI and VII are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP §

Art Unit: 1639

806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to different compounds or compositions as kit or a component system. Each of these components differs in the elements contained therein.

Inventions III and V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to different methods with different process steps and/or components utilize therein.

Inventions (I, II, IV, VI and VII) and (III and V) are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to different compounds or compositions as kit or component system and different processes. These are different and distinct statutory subject matter that require searching different prior art.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, and the search required for Group I is not required for Groups II-VII, specifically the literature searches, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Claims 51, 53, 58, 65, 70, 75, 83, 84 and 87 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising

A. Enzyme (claim 51), applicants are to elect a single species from the adenylate or guanylate cyclase.

B. First and second segment of the enzyme as recited in claim 53.

C. Polynucleotide such as cDNA, RNA, gDNA or mitochondrial DNA of claim 58.

E. Target ligand, a species not a generic target ligand as recited in claim 65 e.g., if a protein, a specific kind of protein.

F. Reporter gene as recited in claim 70, for example.

G. Medium as recited in claim 75, step d.

H. Substance as recited in claim 84 i.e., a species of e.g., a protein.

Each of the species recited in each of the subgroups e.g., A differs in structure and possibly mode of action. A prior art reference anticipating one species would not render obvious the other species. Hence, different patentability determinations are involved for each structurally different species.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
